

ORA CLINE MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Rush Circuit Court Is Upheld In
Sending Rush County Farmer To
The State Penal Farm

SUPREME COURT DECISION

Cline Allowed Ten Days To Begin
Serving Sentence Of 120 Days
For Encouraging Delinquency

Ora Cline, a farmer living southwest of Rushville, was brought into court this morning, following a ruling in the Supreme court in which the decision of the local court was affirmed on a charge of encouraging delinquency, and the defendant will have to serve a term of 120 days at the state penal farm, and pay a fine of $50.

On account of the busy period on the farm, because the defendant is in the midst of his wheat harvest, Judge Fremont Miller, special judge in the case, granted him ten days to prepare, and he was ordered to appear and accompany the sheriff to the penal institution.

The case against the defendant is one of the longest standing criminal cases in the court, outgrowing from a case heard more than three years ago, when a jury found him guilty of the charge of encouraging delinquency of a 15 year old girl, Gladys Smith.

On account of the case being in juvenile court, there was some delay experienced in making an appeal to the higher courts. The case was heard here in March, 1920, and on April 2, 1920 he was fined $50 and given a 120 day sentence.

A few weeks after that the case was appealed and has been before higher courts ever since, and which has just resulted in the decision of the local court being affirmed.

Judge Fremont Miller of Franklin acted as special judge in the case, and when he was apprised of the higher court's action, he came this morning to pass final judgment and make the necessary commitment.

The action came rather unexpectedly this morning, and the defense's attorney asked Judge Miller for additional time for the defendant to make necessary preparations before the commitment.

The state offered protest against additional time, and Judge Miller ordered Sheriff Hunt to produce the defendant.

The case, it will be recalled, re-

METHODISTS READY FOR COUNTY MEETING

Three Speakers Of Note Will Address Sessions At City Park
Here Tuesday July 31

OTHER FEATURES ON PROGRAM

Preparations have been completed for the county meeting of Methodist Episcopal church that will be held at the city park here on Tuesday, July 31. The morning will be devoted to a speaking and musical program, followed by a basket dinner at noon and athletic contests, community singing and other special features in the afternoon.

The speakers at the morning program will be Arthur Sapp of Huntington, Ind., one of the most prominent Methodist laymen in the state, who will speak on "Indiana Methodism"; the Rev. H. A. King, D. D., of Indianapolis, superintendent of the Indianapolis district, who will speak on "Our Benevolences"; and the Rev. J. W. Potter, D. D., pastor of the largest Methodist church in Fort Wayne, whose subject will be "The Appeal of Christ."

These speakers will go to Connersville in the afternoon for a Fayette county meeting. Similar meetings are planned for every county in Indiana by Bishop Leete of the Indianapolis area.

There will be some music between the speeches in the morning and in the afternoon a prepared musical program will be offered, together with community singing. An hour's athletic program in which Methodist boys of the county will participate will be directed by Albert F. Cotton, director of physical education in the Rushville schools.

COMMUNITY SOCIAL, PLAN

Will Be Given At City Park For
Benefit Of Park Playground

A community ice cream social and lawn festival will be held at the city park one week from tonight, Monday evening, July 23, for the benefit of the park playground, under the auspices of the Young Men's Circle and the Loyal Daughters of the Main Street Christian church. The proceeds will be used to buy more playground equipment at the park.

The park board recently permitted the Young Men's Circle to hold a lawn festival at the park, and in return for the privilege, the young men's class offered to hold a benefit festival. Rushville women who will bake cakes to be sold at the social are requested to notify Mrs. Ellis Downey, phone 2484.

MANY LUNATICS STILL AT LARGE

Southern Illinois Engages In Man
Hunt Following Escape Of 42
From Insane Hospital

19 CAPTURED UP TO NOON

Twenty-Three Mad Men Still At
Large Thought To Have Left
Environ Of Chester, Ill

(By United Press)
Chester, Ill., July 23.—With all southern Illinois joining in a man hunt, 19 out of 42 desperate lunatics—some of them killers—who escaped in a wholesale jail break from the Illinois state hospital for the criminal insane, had been captured at noon today.

These figures were given the United Press by Dr. O. C. Stubblefield, superintendent, who was badly beaten when he joined guards in an attempt to break up the escape.

The twenty-three mad men still at large are thought to have made their escape from the environs of Chester and the hunt was extended today over all southern Illinois.

Four of the maniacs were captured in a garage here as they were attempting to steal an automobile. Another was taken from a tree in which he had spent the night.

Those captured were taken in and around Chester. They were found hiding in underbrush, in farmers' barns and other places near the hospital.

Ralph Dilday, a guard, who with James Denny, another guard was attacked by one of the mad men armed with a butcher knife, is not expected to live. He was literally hacked to pieces.

Stores in Chester were locked and bolted. Shopkeepers armed with shotguns patrolled their places of business. Shutters and windows of homes were drawn.

No women and children have been allowed on the streets since the maniacs escaped. Sixty guards augmented by a posse of citizens are combing surrounding territory for those still at large.

William Jackson, an insane negro murderer was killed by the guards as he attempted to escape.

O. C. Stubblefield, superintendent of the hospital suffered a broken arm in the battle to keep other prisoners from escaping.

The wholesale jail delivery occurred last night just about dusk. The prisoners had been taken into a court for some fresh air before being locked up for the night. Ten guards, none of them armed in consequence, were on duty.

MRS. ELLA RICHEY DIES

Milroy Woman Expires Today At Age Of 61 Years

Mrs. Ella Richey, aged 61 years, expired at her home in Milroy this morning at two o'clock, following an extended illness suffering from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Richey lived alone and was very well known in that vicinity, having lived there for many years.

The nearest relatives is Mrs. Eliza Julian, a half sister, and nieces and nephews also survive. The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at the Methodist church in Milroy, the Rev. R. R. Cross, pastor of the church, having charge.

RICHER THAN CROESUS

DR. PAXTON HIT AND THROWN FOR TEN FEET

Rushville Doctor Occupies Room in Indianapolis Hospital Beside Wife
Following Accident

DRIVER OF CAR ARRESTED

Dr. J. T. Paxton of this city was painfully injured when struck by an automobile at the corner of Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue in Indianapolis Sunday evening, and today was occupying a room in the Methodist hospital beside that of Mrs. Paxton, who has been in the hospital for the past few weeks for treatment.

Dr. Paxton suffered a sprained ankle and was badly bruised and injured, his injuries being severe enough to cause him to be confined to bed. The fender of the machine struck him and hurled him ten feet through the air, but he was not run over by the car.

A dispatch from Indianapolis to the Daily Republican today said that Thomas Cunningham, colored, 2445 Hovey street, Indianapolis, was driving the car which struck the local physician. He was arrested on a charge of assault and battery.

According to the report received here, Dr. Paxton was returning to the hospital with some medicine for Mrs. Paxton, and seeing that both streets were clear for sixty feet each way he crossed. When past the middle of the street the automobile bore down on him and he could not avoid being hit. The driver of the machine was blamed by Dr. Paxton and persons who witnessed the accident. It was stated that the driver apparently tried to run down the Rushville physician.

Mrs. Paxton showed great improvement Sunday and today, it was announced this morning, and some hope is now held out for her recovery.

Ripley Township Hangs Up Banner Wheat Yield

It remained for Ripley township to hang up the banner wheat yield of the county—one that is not likely to be surpassed this year.

Frank Silver, living west of Carthage, threshed a field of eight acres that yielded 337 bushels of wheat, an average of 42½ bushels to the acre.

The wheat tested sixty-one pounds to the bushel and was delivered to the Hill Grain and Coal company at Carthage.

"It's A Small World," Two Rushville Young Men Conclude

Harold McClanahan and Harry Schmalzel Meet by Accident on Streets of London, Neither Knowing the Other Was in British Metropolis. Lived Only Two Doors Apart.

"It's a small world."

This is the conclusion that has been reached by Harold McClanahan, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. F. McClanahan, and Harry Schmalzel, son of Mrs. Hugo Schmalzel, both of this city, who met by accident recently in London, neither knowing that the other was residing in the British metropolis.

It developed, when Mr. Schmalzel recognized Mr. McClanahan on the street, that they had been living for several weeks within two doors of one another.

Mr. Schmalzel went to London last spring to go into the auto accessories business and Mr. McClanahan is studying piano in London. Although the latter will be there only three months, the Rushville boys have found life in London very congenial since they have met.

The first news of the accidental meeting of the two Rushville boys was received by Mrs. Schmalzel in a letter from her son, who described seeing Mr. McClanahan on the street and immediately recognizing him. The meeting is also mentioned in a letter received by the Daily Republican from Mr. McClanahan, who said that he welcomed copies of the Daily Republican which Mr. Schmalzel

SAMPLE PILLS ARE BLAMED FOR SICKNESS

Wholesale Distribution Of Laxative
Tablets Causes Illness of Children, It Is Reported

IS REGULATED BY STATE LAW

Rushville druggists today called attention to the serious consequences that resulted Saturday from the wholesale distribution of laxative pills in this city. The pills were thrown broadcast about the city, and druggists received reports of children eating them and being made seriously sick.

They pointed out that there was a state law regulating the distribution of medicine samples which requires that certain kinds which may injure children shall be placed in the hands of adults if they are given away.

No regard for this statute was shown by those who distributed the pills last week, it is said, because they were thrown on verandas and even in the front yards of many Rushville homes within easy reach of small children.

One or two instances were reported where children took the chocolate-coated pills, thinking they were candy, and physicians had to be called.

Mayor Walter R. Thomas was notified of the occurrence and he called on druggists to warn dispensers of medicine samples to keep within the law in distributing them.

PROMISES TO RETURN WHEN HE IS WANTED

James Cranley Permitted To Go
Without Bond When Arraigned On
Liquor Charge Today

MAKES A SWORN STATEMENT

James Cranley, who was arrested two weeks ago when an automobile in which he was a passenger was seized near the court house with a cargo of Canadian liquor, was arraigned this morning in the circuit court, and no plea was entered. Being unable to provide bond and on account of having a wife and a small baby, Judge Sparks permitted him to have his liberty, upon the promise to appear when called upon.

It is understood that Cranley has made a sworn statement concerning the affair, in which he said he came to Rushville from Indianapolis in the machine, with two other young men, one of whom is said to be a Rushville boy.

The machine was rented from a South Bend firm, and is being held by Sheriff Hunt. The other two men escaped, as they were attempting to see some of the imported liquor, but when the officers reached the car Cranley was said to have been intoxicated and was guarding the cargo of 42 quarts.

A search is being made for the two missing men, with the South Bend automobile firm on the lookout, with the hopes of them getting back their machine.

CABIN DISMANTELED TODAY

Birthplace Of Gen. P. A. Hackle-
man Will Be Moved To Local Park

A committee from the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs left early this morning for Franklin county to dismantle the log cabin, in which General P. A. Hackleman of the county was born, preparatory to moving it to the city park, which will be known as Memorial park.

The cabin is approximately 115 years old, but a recent investigation by local men showed that it was so well preserved that it could be torn down moved to Rushville and erected in the park in practically its original state. The committee plans to duplicate the clapboard roof, only one-half of which remains.

Gen. Hackleman was the only Indiana general killed during the civil war, but nothing has ever been done to commemorate his service in the army.

MAY TERM OF COURT IS OFFICIALLY CLOSED

Issues in Several Cases Disposed Of,
Marking End of Sessions
Until September

MOZINGO AND WIFE APPEAR

Circuit court held a one day adjourned session today, officially ending the May term, and no more court will be held until the first Monday in September.

An issue pertaining to the divorce suit of Stella Hilligoss against Claude Hilligoss was heard this morning, in which the plaintiff was granted her petition to have the defendant restore personal belongings, which he was charged with retaining.

In the divorce suit pending of Bessie Mozingo against Frank Mozingo, the parties appeared and the question of support was submitted, and the defendant was ordered to pay $5 a week, and also $15 for her attorney fees.

In a suit filed by Charley Norhloh against Ethel B. Posey, administrator of the estate of Jessie Posey, a complaint on a claim, the plaintiff dismissed the action today. A complaint of Romelia E. Tevis against William L. Tevis, et al., on a court judgment, also was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff. In the case of Jesse A. Leisure, executor of the estate of Jane Leisure, against Jesse Leisure, et al., a suit to construct the will, the court made the necessary divisions of property, as demanded in the petition.

CABINET TO TAKE UP LONDON NOTE TUESDAY

Called Into Extraordinary Session
by Premier Poincare to Discuss
German Reparations

NOT LIKELY TO APPROVE PLAN

(By United Press)
Paris, July 23.—Premier Poincare today summoned the French cabinet to an extraordinary session tomorrow, when the British note to Germany on the subject of reparations will be discussed.

The French premier has an agreement with Premier Baldwin of Great Britain whereby neither government will permit the contents of the note or the tenor of negotiations now under way through secret diplomatic channels to become known.

Consequently little is known regarding France's attitude toward the three proposals of the document which are understood to be:

1.—An impartial commission to discover Germany's ability to pay.
2.—France and Belgium to withdraw most of their troops from the Ruhr to permit resumption of German industry.
3.—Germany to cease passive resistance and get to work.

Unofficial spokesmen and the inspired press have declared these proposals, with exception of the third, unacceptable to France. This country insists upon unconditional capitulation by Germany.

Los Angeles, July 23.—Movie queens, film heroes and all the colorful Hollywood community were hurled from their beds and fled to lawns and sidewalks in filmy night attire shortly before midnight when all Southern California was rocked by two earthquakes which lasted over six seconds.

Little damage was done in Los Angeles or vicinity, although the quake was the most severe in three years.

Beach cities suffered a particularly heavy shaking. A second tremor, almost as severe as the first, shook San Bernardino at 1 a. m.

Monave reported a heavy shock lasting 20 seconds at 11:30. Operators along the Santa Fe reported it was felt from Bakersfield to Needles.

The Hall of Records at San Bernardino was badly damaged. One man, George Fisher, who was in bed in a building adjoining the Hall was seriously injured when the roof fell in on him. Two men asleep in rooming houses were reported injured.

Earthquake damage at Redlands were estimated at $25,000. Several roofs were shaken in and plate glass windows broken.

The shock occurred at 11:27 p. m. Sunday.

Prisoners in jail here were thrown into a panic and shouted like mad-dened caged animals as the walls rocked.

Throughout the city persons frightened by the quake rushed to the streets. Late pedestrians were thrown from their feet.

Chief damage here and at Hollywood was to plaster and modesty.

DEATH A SHOCK TO HIS FRIENDS HERE

Thomas B. Millikan, Age 69, Widely Known Newcastle Banker, Ex-
pires Sunday In Indianapolis

FUNERAL TUESDAY AT 3 P. M.

News of the death of Thomas B. Millikan, age sixty-nine years, Newcastle banker and prominent republican, at the Robert Long hospital in Indianapolis Sunday of obstruction of the bowels, was a deep shock to his Rushville friends. Mr. Millikan was in Rushville one week ago last Thursday and at that time appeared to be in good health. He was taken ill at Milan, Ind., last Thursday and removed to the hospital Saturday. Complications developed and it was thought best not to operate.

Will M. Frazee, Robert E. Mansfield and other close personal friends of Mr. Millikan's living here were called to Newcastle Sunday afternoon by the unexpected death.

Mr. Millikan was cashier of the Citizens state bank of Newcastle and was interested in many other banks as well as several industries. He never held public office and in 1902 was defeated for the nomination of state treasurer. Mr. Millikan was a close personal friend of Senator James E. Watson.

He is survived by the widow and three children, Mrs. Claude Stanley, John R. Millikan and Miss Janet Millikan.

Mr. Millikan was the brother of Frank M. Millikan of Indianapolis, vice president of the National City bank.

The funeral will be held at the home of his son, John Millikan at Newcastle, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in the Newcastle cemetery. The Rev. L. C. Howe of Vincennes will have charge of the services, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Wilson of Christ Church, Newcastle.

BUDGET SYSTEM BEST IN WORLD

That The American System Is Highly Effective Has Been Demonstrated By Results

FINANCES ARE BALANCED

U. S. System Is Superior To That Of The British Although It Is Only Two Years Old

Washington, July 23.—Not with standing the American budget system is only two years old while that of Great Britain is more than 200, it can be truthfully asserted that the American system is the best in the world. Of course the United States had the advantage of studying the provisions and the practical working of the British budget system when our own was framed. The British system has been the growth of many years of experience and has been improved from time to time, but still has some defects, which even its supporters recognize.

That the American system is highly effective has been demonstrated by results. Not only have our finances been balanced by making expenditures come within the income but the executive departments have been so accurate in their estimates and the cooperation between the executive branch and the legislative branch has been so harmonious that the appropriations come within less than two per cent of the estimates of the Budget Bureau. This is a remarkably close approach to the estimates when it is remembered that the total was more than three billion dollars and there is no limitation whatever upon the right of Congress to make any changes it may deem best. The appropriations were slightly under the estimates submitted by the Director of the Budget.

There are two important respects in which the American system is superior to that of the British. One of these is the power which the President has, by virtue of his constitutional authority and authority given him by act of Congress, over the coordination of the work of the several departments of the government. One official of the Budget Bureau is known as the Chief Coordinator. Under the leadership of this officer representatives of the forty-three bureaus and boards and commissions conducting government business meet for conferences regarding government business in which they have a common interest. At such conferences plans are made for elimination of duplication, removal of competitive bidding for supplies, interchange of unused supplies, etc., with the result of saving millions of dollars and at the same time increasing efficiency.

Another important feature of superior merit in the American system is its flexibility. Under the British system when the tentative draft of the budget is made up it goes to the Cabinet for final approval and is then laid before the House of Commons. The budget is subject to discussion by the minority but if any material change is made without the consent of the administration that change results in a resignation of the Cabinet and the forming of a new cabinet by the

BARBERRY SCOUT IN COUNTY

W. J. Wegel Checking up on Eradication Campaign Here

W. J. Wegel, barberry scout of the United States department of agriculture, arrived here today to spend two or three days in Rush county checking up on the black stem rust in the county and on the results of the barberry eradication campaign here last year.

Several instances were found in this county last year where barberry bushes had caused black stem rust in wheat and had materially cut the yield. The bushes were cut down wherever found and the government agent this year is investigating all of these cases to determine if the eradication of the barberry resulted in the elimination of black stem rust.

COMPLETE THREE SPAN REINFORCED BRIDGE

Highway Commission to Start in Few Days of Laying Pavement Across Structure in Putnam County

CHANGES NATIONAL ROAD

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—The state highway commission has just completed building a three span, 75-foot to the span, reinforced concrete arch bridge over Deer Creek in Putnam county on the National road, and work will start in a few days in laying pavement across the structure. Present indications are that traffic may use the bridge and cut-off by August 15, John D. Williams, director of the commission, says.

Opening of the Reesville bridge and cut off means changing the National road back to where it was in 1875. In that year Deer Creek flooded its banks and washed out a bridge on the site of the new one. Putnam county commissioners changed the road over to pass through the town of Reesville and across the old wooden structure at the base of a steep hill. When the highway commission started improving the National road the route was relocated back to the original right of way. The cut-off and new bridge eliminates two Pennsylvania railroad crossings and the dangerous Reesville Hill, also shortens the route three-quarters of a mile.

The old Reesville route which will be abandoned about the middle of August was considered an extremely hazardous one due to the fact one negotiated a particularly steep hill and then turned sharply to enter the bridge. It has been the scene of many a serious accident.

U. S. GOVERNMENT ON A VACATION

With President In Alaska. And Congress "Gone Home". Only A Few Of The Main Ones Are Left

MANY FOLLOW THE PRESIDENT

Hughes And New Are Holding Down Their Jobs In Unofficial Washington, Running The Affairs

By A. L. BRADFORD (U. P. Staff Correspondent) Washington, July 23. —Official Washington is a desert.

The hot July sun beats down on the pavements. The asphalt "squashes" under the feet of unfortunate pedestrians out in the heat of mid-day. An occasional clerk or under-secretary saunters from one department to another.

The United States government is on a vacation.

President Harding is in Alaska, where many a pair of wistful eyes turn in following his movements. Some of the heads of his administration are in Alaska; some others of the members of his cabinet are somewhere else, and about everyone else, belonging to Washington who could manage it, is about everywhere but Washington.

And Congress is out of town too. But, then Congress had been almost constantly in session over such a long period, that Washington does not miss the members so much and is sort of glad that they have taken an opportunity to get away—for their sake, of course. The Superior Court is silent.

Standing as bulwarks of "duty before all" are two lone Cabinet members who announce that they will "stick it out on this line if it takes all summer." They are Secretary of State Hughes and Postmaster General New, who will remain at their desks without taking any leave that could be dignified by the name of a vacation.

So, all in all, this great nerve-center of the administration of the United States is more deserted this summer than at any time since the Taft Administration, when the then President criss-crossed throughout the country on his famous "swing around the circle" that equals or even exceeds the distance to be covered by President Harding.

The line-up of President Harding's "absentee Cabinet" is as follows:

Secretary of State Hughes, who remains here all summer, finding relief from well known Washington heat only through his residence at the summer home he maintains just on the outskirts of the city.

Postmaster General New, who also intends to stick to Washington all summer, with the possible exception of a few trips of a day or so on official business, such as for the purpose of attending a postal convention.

Secretary of War Weeks, who will spend as much time, if not more on periodic trips to his home in the mountains of New Hampshire, than in Washington.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, who is spending a month or so of vacation at his summer home on one of the lakes of Michigan.

Attorney General Daugherty, who is leaving shortly for the Pacific Coast to join President Harding upon the latter's return from Alaska, for the purpose of taking up a number of important questions with the executive during the return to Washington.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is now on a trip in Europe.

Secretary of Labor Davis, touring Europe.

Secretary of the Interior Work, who is accompanying President Harding on the Alaskan trip.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who joined the President on the Coast and accompanied him to Alaska.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, also with the Presidential party.

"What are Secretary Hughes and Postmaster General New planning to do here all by themselves this summer?" one asks. It may be that Hughes expects to see the business of his department pick up during this period. His last two summers have been quite eventful, he having brought to a conclusion the negotiations which developed the Disarmament Conference, the summer of 1921, with the Taena-Arica Conference between Chile and Peru having met here the summer of 1922 under his auspices.

President Harding said just before he left Washington that he did not fear a repetition of the Lansing incident in his administration, and that there would be no public scenes

TO MAKE A DRAINAGE SURVEY OF THE STATE

Three Engineers Hope To Collect Data From At Least Half Of Counties By September

TO REVISE DRAINAGE LAWS

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23. —Three engineers of the state conservation department have resumed work on preparation of a drainage survey of the state and expect to collect data from at least half the counties by September, Richard Lieber, conservation director, says. Mr. Lieber pointed out that this work was started a year or more ago but suspended after a few months progress, due to the press of work in getting the state parks in shape to handle the many thousands who each summer enjoy their cool retreats and great scenic beauty.

M. J. Stinchfield, assistant state engineer, under whose supervision the drainage survey will be made, says that data will be collected in each ninety-two counties as regards drainage ditches, low lands, flood stages, rapidity of run-off, etc. This data will be compiled into a report that will look toward the revision of the drainage laws of the state; also will place the conservation department in possession of facts to better render engineering service in advising the public on drainage problems.

Mr. Stinchfield calls attention that proper drainage has turned many acres of marsh lands to profitable agriculture. In the other hand unwise drainage schemes have placed some parts of the state at the mercy of floods. It is to correct many evils attendant to improper drainage in order that the department may be of augmented service, that the survey is being compiled, he says.

Indianapolis — Firemen rescued Emma Erwin from the roof of a building to which she had jumped from the adjoining building. She was locked up on a charge of intoxication.

if Secretary Hughes called a Cabinet meeting during his absence. But will two men hold a Cabinet meeting?, observers inquire.

However, the Government is taking this opportunity to give itself a thorough physical cleaning. The White House and the Capitol and also other government departments are being completely renovated. In the Halls of Congress war against rats and bugs is being carried on under a special appropriation from that body.

The Government here is being run largely by the "little cabinet" of under-secretaries and assistant secretaries.

LOCAL EMPLOYEES ATTEND

Members Of Pennsylvania Veterans Association At Annual Outing

Several Rushville people attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania railroad employees, which was held Saturday at the State Fair grounds, when a crowd of 8,000 people assembled for the afternoon program. Four local employees of the railroad belong to the Veteran's association, which had charge of the meeting.

Those from here who attended were J. M. Higgins, local freight agent, who has been in service since 1896; Michael Cooning, section foreman, since 1896; D. H. Dean, physician, since 1895, and B. W. Reynolds, crossing watchman at third street. Dr. Dean was accompanied by his family, and all those who attended were given souvenirs of the session.

BE VERY COURAGEOUS.—Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law * * * that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest.—Joshua 1:7.

Insurance Growing Cheaper

Not long ago the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that electricity was the only large item in the cost of living which had shown any reduction in cost to the consumer since 1917.

Whether or not this indicates a recognition of the truth that the expense for fire insurance protection represents only a small percentage of the individual overhead is not made clear, or whether it was merely an oversight of the Bureau in overlooking this bulwark of modern society. It is a matter of record, however, that between 1912 and 1922, the average rate charged in the United States for fire insurance coverage declined to the extent of 7 cents for each $100 of insurance carried.

The astonishing feature of this situation is the fact that the reduction took place in the face of heavy advances for railroad fares, rents, supplies, wages, advertising and other necessary expenses.

A Telephone Nation

In 1877 the number of telephones per hundred population in both the United States and Europe was none. In 1899 the United States had less than one telephone per hundred population and Europe had barely a fraction of a telephone. In 1921 Europe had a little better than one telephone per hundred population while the United States had risen to more than thirteen telephones per hundred population and now has a total of 14,500,000 in use, which is two-thirds of all the telephones in the whole world.

In this country there is about one telephone to every two farm dwellings, a convenience unheard of in other countries. This wonderful telephone development is due to efficient organization, to the cumulative effect and importance of investments great and small in all the apparatus and equipment required for the transmission of speech, as well as to the foresight and business acumen of those who have directed the policy of the great systems from the beginning, and to the fact that in this country telephone development has been left to private enterprise under reasonable governmental regulation.

Sports For Girls

We as a people are not slow in providing healthy sports for our young boys, because we know that they aid in making them manly men. But we need to be prodded up to the point of doing as much for the girls.

One reason why Americans are a hardy and progressive race is the fact that our women have more freedom than they have in other countries, and therefore secure more benefit from the open air and the natural exercise incident thereto.

When we arrive at the point where we provide the girls with opportunities for mental and physical development equal to those enjoyed by the boys we will have an even harder and more progressive race than we have ever had before.

We owe more to motherhood than most people realize.

zel has been receiving from home since living in London.

His letter to the Republican follows:

35 Upper Gloucester Pl.,
N. W. I.
London.

Dear Daily Republican:

"It's a small world"—three copies of your recent issues furnished me by young Schmalzel here in London made me a very pleasant hour the other morning. I had gone out early to mail some letter, and returning along Marleybone Road from Baker St., I heard someone repeating my name over to himself several times. I turned just as a young fellow was stepping out to meet me from the other side of the road. We met and shook hands about the middle of it.—something about my walk had convinced him that he knew me, so he spoke out! He was a Freshman in High School just as I was getting out, and I don't think I had seen him since. Living in my neighborhood, he came over to see me soon after that and brought along three copies of your very good paper. The column "fifteen years ago today" was of course very grateful reading to me, but I believe I read every word of every article and notice and advertisement in the paper, whether I knew the parties concerned or not! My best regards to the old home-town and to the paper that represents it so well. Still pursuing my music—this time piano with Tobias Mathay, a great English teacher and writer. Incidentally am enjoying the change in people, customs, and scenery—went down to Brighton yesterday where my mother and father lived 33 years ago. A few American dentists would do wonders over here—even young and healthy-looking people usually have several large and important teeth conspicuous by their absence and the rest sadly delapidated. They don't seem to attempt to fill them or save them—pull them out when no longer useful. The people, and their ways of living are behind the times, but their country is beautiful and chock full of history.

Sincerely,
RICHARD H. McCLANAHAN

Fon Riggs: "That was a corkin' good band here last week with the Guy Stock Company. And maybe you don't think I know something about a band. I played for over eight years in a band and played every instrument in the circle. Every time I see or hear a brass band, you can expect to find me right along with the small boys with my ears cocked. I'll bet I've spent enough money travelling around the country with the old aggregation we had here to buy twenty acres of the best land in Rush county. I remember once we went to a place about ten miles north of Cincinnati to play, and one of the boys from home always swore afterwards that he could hear every note that I played. I've got my old cornet up home yet. Folks started me to playing for my wind—no, not that I talked too much, but they thought I had the consumption. They gave me up to die once, and the band business saved my life, I guess."

Is Worth More Than A
Fortune, Says Timmons

Among the thousands who have volunteered statements inviting personal inquiry into their experiences with Tanlac is S. W. Timmons, manager of the Timmons Insurance Agency, Fort Wayne, Ind., residing at 126 West Wayne St.

Mr. Timmons' position in the commercial and social life of Fort Wayne bespeaks his unquestioned integrity which stands with the strength of Gibraltar behind his statement. He says:

"I consider what Tanlac has done for my wife and myself is worth more than a fortune. If ever two people had their share of misery from stomach trouble, I think we had ours.

"As for myself, I had no appetite, was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and even when not actually in pain, I felt so tired and worn-out life was a burden. If anything, my wife suffered worse than I did.

"But without going into detail, we are both in splendid health since taking Tanlac, and I don't see how anyone could experience the wonderful relief we have and keep silent about it. If anyone doubts this statement just send them to me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

BELIEVES M'ADOO HAS BEST CHANCE

Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York Comments on Democratic Presidential Race

STOPS OFF IN INDIANAPOLIS

Declares Henry Ford Will be Elected if Nominated by Either of the Old Parties

Indianapolis, July 23—William Gibbs McAdoo is the leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency and he will go into the next convention with at least 50 percent of the votes, in the opinion of Royal S. Copeland, United States Senator from New York.

Senator Copeland stopped off in Indianapolis a short time on his way to Michigan for a vacation.

The senator, who himself has been mentioned for the presidency and who is looked upon as one of the coming party leaders, declared that Henry Ford could be elected if nominated by either of the old parties.

If he seeks the election as a third candidate he will draw the radical vote and strengthen the Democratic chances, Copeland believes.

The biggest issue of the campaign will be a combination of foreign relations and the plight of the farmers—the restoration of an European demand for American products being necessary to prosperity in this country, Copeland said.

Copeland sees little chance for the nomination either of Governor Smith of New York or Senator Ralston of Indiana.

"The whole country is dry," Copeland said, "but Governor Smith could not more consistently have vetoed the prohibition repealer than William Jennings Bryan could have signed it."

Senator Copeland was a visitor

at the meeting of the Pennsylvania Railroad Veterans' Association before leaving for his vacation in Michigan.

CROWD STORMS COURT HOUSE AS TRIAL OPENS

Mounted Police Drive Back Mob Estimated at 23,000 When Policeman's Murderer is Arraigned

DEATH PENALTY TO BE ASKED

(By United Press)
Cleveland, Ohio, July 23—A crowd estimated at 23,000 rushed the court house as the trial of John L. Whitefield started here today.

Patrolmen and mounted police drove back the mob that stormed the doors. Whitefield, the prisoner, was handcuffed to two deputy sheriffs and surrounded by other deputies.

Whitefield is charged with the murder of a Cleveland policeman. Accidental shooting will be the plea of Whitefield, who was the object of the most baffling man-hunts by authorities of many states of the mid-west and northwest.

"The Prosecution will demand the death penalty," declared Prosecutor Stanton as the trial opened. Whitefield goes to trial under a new Ohio law which makes a killing of a policeman on duty, first degree murder without any alternative.

Whitefield is charged with the slaying of Patrolman Dennis Griffin who arrested him on May 11 for theft of spark plugs. Griffin allowed the prisoner to go into his home to say goodbye to his wife where it was learned later he obtained a pistol.

Then the two started in Whitefield's automobile for the police station, but they never arrived at that destination. Three days later the policeman's body was found with a bullet hole through his head, buried at the base of an uprooted tree.

FARM LABOR CRISIS OVER

Demand For Help in Harvest Field is on the Decrease

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—The crisis in the Indiana farm labor situation is over, Prof. W. Q. Fitch, head of the state farm labor office in the statehouse, said today.

Demand for laborers has been on the decrease in all parts of the state the last ten days with the exception of the extreme north portion, where the wheat harvest is being finished this week, he said.

Only about one-fourth of the men who went to the employment office in search of work actually landed jobs, according to Fitch. Some didn't have the money to get to farms after they had been offered work, while others were disinclined to labor in the wheat fields at the price the farmers were able to pay, according to Fitch.

The employment office will be closed after this week.

ORA CLINE MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Rush Circuit Court Is Upheld In
Sending Rush County Farmer To
The State Penal Farm

SUPREME COURT DECISION

Cline Allowed Ten Days To Begin
Serving Sentence Of 120 Days
For Encouraging Delinquency

Ora Cline, a farmer living south-west of Rushville, was brought into court this morning, following a ruling in the Supreme court in which the decision of the local court was affirmed on a charge of encouraging delinquency, and the defendant will have to serve a term of 120 days at the state penal farm, and pay a fine of $50.

On account of the busy period on the farm, because the defendant is in the midst of his wheat harvest, Judge Fremont Miller, special judge in the case, granted him ten days to prepare, and he was ordered to appear and accompany the sheriff to the penal institution.

The case against the defendant is one of the longest standing criminal cases in the court, outgrowing from a case heard more than three years ago, when a jury found him guilty of the charge of encouraging delinquency of a 15 year old girl, Gladys Smith.

On account of the case being in juvenile court, there was some delay experienced in making an appeal to the higher courts. The case was heard here in March, 1920, and on April 2, 1920 he was fined $50 and given a 120 day sentence.

A few weeks after that the case was appealed and has been before higher courts ever since, and which has just resulted in the decision of the local court being affirmed.

Judge Fremont Miller of Franklin acted as special judge in the case, and when he was apprised of the higher court's action, he came this morning to pass final judgment and make the necessary commitment.

The action came rather unexpectedly this morning, and the defense's attorney asked Judge Miller for additional time for the defendant to make necessary preparations before the commitment.

The state offered protest against additional time, and Judge Miller ordered Sheriff Hunt to produce the defendant.

The case, it will be recalled, re-

METHODISTS READY FOR COUNTY MEETING

Three Speakers Of Note Will Address Sessions At City Park
Here Tuesday July 31

OTHER FEATURES ON PROGRAM

Preparations have been completed for the county meeting of Methodist Episcopal church that will be held at the city park here on Tuesday, July 31. The morning will be devoted to a speaking and musical program, followed by a basket dinner at noon and athletic contests, community singing and other special features in the afternoon.

The speakers at the morning program will be Arthur Sapp of Huntington, Ind., one of the most prominent Methodist laymen in the state, who will speak on "Indiana Methodism"; the Rev. H. A. King, D. D., of Indianapolis, superintendent of the Indianapolis district, who will speak on "Our Benevolences"; and the Rev. J. W. Potter, D. D., pastor of the largest Methodist church in Fort Wayne, whose subject will be "The Appeal of Christ."

These speakers will go to Connersville in the afternoon for a Fayette county meeting. Similar meetings are planned for every county in Indiana by Bishop Leete of the Indianapolis area.

There will be some music between the speeches in the morning and in the afternoon a prepared musical program will be offered, together with community singing. An hour's athletic program in which Methodist boys of the county will participate will be directed by Albert F. Cotton, director of physical education in the Rushville schools.

COMMUNITY SOCIAL, PLAN

Benefit Of Park Playground

A community ice cream social and lawn festival will be held at the city park one week from tonight, Monday evening, July 23, for the benefit of the park playground, under the auspices of the Young Men's Circle and the Loyal Daughters of the Main Street Christian church. The proceeds will be used to buy more playground equipment at the park.

The park board recently permitted the Young Men's Circle to hold a lawn festival at the park, and in return for the privilege, the young men's class offered to hold a benefit festival. Rushville women who will bake cakes to be sold at the social are requested to notify Mrs. Ellis Downey, phone 2484.

Southern Illinois Engages In Man
Hunt Following Escape Of 42
From Insane Hospital

19 CAPTURED UP TO NOON

Twenty-Three Mad Men Still At
Large Thought To Have Left
Environments Of Chester, Ill

(By United Press)
Chester, Ill., July 23.—With all southern Illinois joining in a man hunt, 19 out of 42 desperate lunatics—some of them killers—who escaped in a wholesale jail break from the Illinois state hospital for the criminal insane, had been captured at noon today.

These figures were given the United Press by Dr. O. C. Stubblefield, superintendent, who was badly beaten when he joined guards in an attempt to break up the escape.

The twenty-three mad men still at large are thought to have made their escape from the environs of Chester and the hunt was extended today over all southern Illinois.

Four of the maniacs were captured in a garage here as they were attempting to steal an automobile. Another was taken from a tree in which he had spent the night.

Those captured were taken in and around Chester. They were found hiding in underbrush, in farmers' barns and other places near the hospital.

Ralph Dilday, a guard, who with James Denny, another guard was attacked by one of the mad men armed with a butcher knife, is not expected to live. He was literally hacked to pieces.

Stores in Chester were locked and bolted. Shopkeepers armed with shotguns patrolled their places of business. Shutters and windows of homes were drawn.

No women and children have been allowed on the streets since the maniacs escaped. Sixty guards augmented by a posse of citizens are combing surrounding territory for those still at large.

William Jackson, an insane negro murderer was killed by the guards as he attempted to escape.

O. C. Stubblefield, superintendent of the hospital suffered a broken arm in the battle to keep other prisoners from escaping.

The wholesale jail delivery occurred last night just about dusk. The prisoners had been taken into a court for some fresh air before being locked up for the night. Ten guards, none of them armed in combat, were on duty.

Following Accident

DRIVER OF CAR ARRESTED

Dr. J. T. Paxton of this city was painfully injured when struck by an automobile at the corner of Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue in Indianapolis Sunday evening, and today was occupying a room in the Methodist hospital beside that of Mrs. Paxton, who has been in the hospital for the past few weeks for treatment.

Dr. Paxton suffered a sprained ankle and was badly bruised and injured, his injuries being severe enough to cause him to be confined to bed. The fender of the machine struck him and hurled him ten feet through the air, but he was not run over by the car.

A dispatch from Indianapolis to the Daily Republican today said that Thomas Cunningham, colored, 2445 Hovey street, Indianapolis, was driving the car which struck the local physician. He was arrested on a charge of assault and battery.

According to the report received here, Dr. Paxton was returning to the hospital with some medicine for Mrs. Paxton, and seeing that both streets were clear for sixty feet each way he crossed. When past the middle of the street the automobile bore down on him and he could not avoid being hit. The driver of the machine was blamed by Dr. Paxton and persons who witnessed the accident. It was stated that the driver apparently tried to run down the Rushville physician.

Mrs. Paxton showed great improvement Sunday and today, it was announced this morning, and some hope is now held out for her recovery.

Ripley Township Hangs Up Banner Wheat Yield

It remained for Ripley township to hang up the banner wheat yield of the county—one that is not likely to be surpassed this year.

Frank Silver, living west of Carthage, threshed a field of eight acres that yielded 337 bushels of wheat, an average of 42 1/2 bushels to the acre.

The wheat tested sixty-one pounds to the bushel and was delivered to the Hill Grain and Coal company at Carthage.

"It's A Small World," Two Rushville Young Men Conclude

Harold McClanahan and Harry Schmalzel Meet by Accident on Streets of London, Neither Knowing the Other Was in British Metropolis. Lived Only Two Doors
Apart.

"It's a small world," This is the conclusion that has been reached by Harold McClanahan, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. F. McClanahan, and Harry Schmalzel, son of Mrs. Hugo Schmalzel, both of this city, who met by accident recently in London, neither knowing that the other was residing in the British metropolis.

It developed, when Mr. Schmalzel recognized Mr. McClanahan on the street, that they had been living for several weeks within two doors of one another.

Mr. Schmalzel went to London last spring to go into the auto accessories business and Mr. McClanahan is studying piano in London. Although the latter will be there only three months, the Rushville boys have found life in London very congenial since they have met.

The first news of the accidental meeting of the two Rushville boys was received by Mrs. Schmalzel in a letter from her son, who described seeing Mr. McClanahan on the street and immediately recognizing him. The meeting is also mentioned in a letter received by the Daily Republican from Mr. McClanahan, who said that he welcomed copies of the Daily Republican which Mr. Schmalzel had sent him.

SAMPLE PILLS ARE BLAMED FOR SICKNESS

Wholesale Distribution Of Laxative
Tablets Causes Illness of Children, It Is Reported

IS REGULATED BY STATE LAW

Rushville druggists today called attention to the serious consequences that resulted Saturday from the wholesale distribution of laxative pills in this city. The pills were thrown broadcast about the city, and druggists received reports of children eating them and being made seriously sick.

They pointed out that there was a state law regulating the distribution of medicine samples which requires that certain kinds which may injure children shall be placed in the hands of adults if they are given away.

No regard for this statute was shown by those who distributed the pills last week, it is said, because they were thrown on verandas and even in the front yards of many Rushville homes within easy reach of small children.

One or two instances were reported where children took the chocolate-coated pills, thinking they were candy, and physicians had to be called.

Mayor Walter R. Thomas was notified of the occurrence and he called on druggists to warn dispensers of medicine samples to keep within the law in distributing them.

Liquor Charge Today

MAKES A SWORN STATEMENT

James Cranley, who was arrested two weeks ago when an automobile in which he was a passenger was seized near the court house with a cargo of Canadian liquor, was arraigned this morning in the circuit court, and no plea was entered. Being unable to provide bond and on account of having a wife and a small baby, Judge Sparks permitted him to have his liberty, upon the promise to appear when called upon.

It is understood that Cranley has made a sworn statement concerning the affair, in which he said he came to Rushville from Indianapolis in the machine, with two other young men, one of whom is said to be a Rushville boy.

The machine was rented from a South Bend firm, and is being held by Sheriff Hunt. The other two men escaped, as they were attempting to see some of the imported liquor, but when the officers reached the car Cranley was said to have been intoxicated and was guarding the cargo of 42 quarts.

A search is being made for the two missing men, with the South Bend automobile firm on the lookout, with the hopes of them getting back their machine.

CABIN DISMANTELED TODAY

Birthplace Of Gen. P. A. Hackle-
man Will Be Moved To Local Park

A committee from the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs left early this morning for Franklin county to dismantle the log cabin, in which General P. A. Hackleman of the county was born, preparatory to moving it to the city park, which will be known as Memorial park.

The cabin is approximately 115 years old, but a recent investigation by local men showed that it was so well preserved that it could be torn down moved to Rushville and erected in the park in practically its original state. The committee plans to duplicate the clapboard roof, only one-half of which remains.

Gen. Hackleman was the only Indiana general killed during the civil war, but nothing has ever been done to commemorate his service in the army.

MOZINGO AND WIFE APPEAR

Circuit court held a one day adjourned session today, officially ending the May term, and no more court will be held until the first Monday in September.

An issue pertaining to the divorce suit of Stella Hilligoss against Claude Hilligoss was heard this morning, in which the plaintiff was granted her petition to have the defendant restore personal belongings, which he was charged with retaining.

In the divorce suit pending of Bessie Mozingo against Frank Mozingo, the parties appeared and the question of support was submitted, and the defendant was ordered to pay $5 a week, and also $15 for her attorney fees.

In a suit filed by Charley Norhloh against Ethel B. Posey, administrator of the estate of Jessie Posey, a complaint on a claim, the plaintiff dismissed the action today. A complaint of Romelia E. Tevis against William L. Tevis, et al., on a court judgment, also was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff. In the case of Jesse A. Leisure, executor of the estate of Jane Leisure, against Jesse Leisure, et al., a suit to construe the will, the court made the necessary divisions of property, as demanded in the petition.

CABINET TO TAKE UP LONDON NOTE TUESDAY

Called Into Extraordinary Session
by Premier Poincare to Discuss
German Reparations

NOT LIKELY TO APPROVE PLAN

(By United Press)
Paris, July 23.—Premier Poincare today summoned the French cabinet to an extraordinary session tomorrow, when the British note to Germany on the subject of reparations will be discussed.

The French premier has an agreement with Premier Baldwin of Great Britain whereby neither government will permit the contents of the note or the tenor of negotiations now under way through secret diplomatic channels to become known.

Consequently little is known regarding France's attitude toward the three proposals of the document which are understood to be:

1.—An impartial commission to discover Germany's ability to pay.
2.—France and Belgium to withdraw most of their troops from the Ruhr to permit resumption of German industry.
3.—Germany to cease passive resistance and get to work.

Unofficial spokesmen and the inspired press have declared these proposals, with exception of the third, unacceptable to France. This country insists upon unconditional capitulation by Germany.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, July 23.—Movie queens, film heroes and all the colorful Hollywood community were hurled from their beds and fled to lawns and sidewalks in filmy night attire shortly before midnight when all Southern California was rocked by two earthquakes which lasted over six seconds.

Little damage was done in Los Angeles or vicinity, although the quake was the most severe in three years.

Beach cities suffered a particularly heavy shaking.

A second tremor, almost as severe as the first, shook San Bernardino at 1 a. m.

Monave reported a heavy shock lasting 20 seconds at 11:30. Operators along the Santa Fe reported it was felt from Bakersfield to Needles.

The Hall of Records at San Bernardino was badly damaged. One man, George Fisher, who was in bed in a building adjoining the Hall was seriously injured when the roof fell in on him. Two men asleep in rooming houses were reported injured.

Earthquake damage at Redlands were estimated at $25,000. Several roofs were shaken in and plate glass windows broken.

The shock occurred at 11:27 p. m. Sunday.

Prisoners in jail here were thrown into a panic and shouted like mad-dened caged animals as the walls rocked.

Throughout the city persons frightened by the quake rushed to the streets. Late pedestrians were thrown from their feet.

Chief damage here and at Hollywood was to plaster and modesty.

DEATH A SHOCK TO HIS FRIENDS HERE

Thomas B. Millikan, Age 69, Widely
Known Newcastle Banker, Ex-
pires Sunday In Indianapolis

FUNERAL TUESDAY AT 3 P. M.

News of the death of Thomas B. Millikan, age sixty-nine years, Newcastle banker and prominent republican, at the Robert Long hospital in Indianapolis Sunday of obstruction of the bowels, was a deep shock to his Rushville friends. Mr. Millikan was in Rushville one week ago last Thursday and at that time appeared to be in good health. He was taken ill at Milan, Ind., last Thursday and removed to the hospital Saturday. Complications developed and it was thought best not to operate.

Will M. Frazee, Robert E. Mansfield and other close personal friends of Mr. Millikan's living here were called to Newcastle Sunday afternoon by the unexpected death.

Mr. Millikan was cashier of the Citizens state bank of Newcastle and was interested in many other banks as well as several industries. He never held public office and in 1902 was defeated for the nomination of state treasurer. Mr. Millikan was a close personal friend of Senator James E. Watson.

He is survived by the widow and three children. Mrs. Claude Stanley, John R. Millikan and Miss Janet Millikan.

Mr. Millikan was the brother of Frank M. Millikan of Indianapolis, vice president of the National City bank.

The funeral will be held at the home of his son, John Millikan at Newcastle, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in the Newcastle cemetery. The Rev. L. C. Howe of Vincennes will have charge of the services, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Wilson of Christ Church, Newcastle.

BUDGET SYSTEM BEST IN WORLD

That The American System Is Highly Effective Has Been Demonstrated By Results

FINANCES ARE BALANCED

U. S. System Is Superior To That Of The British Although It Is Only Two Years Old

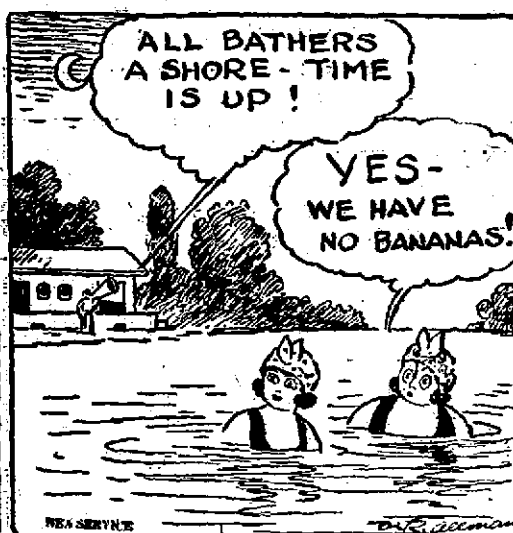

Washington, July 23.—Not with standing the American budget system is only two years old while that of Great Britain is more than 200, it can be truthfully asserted that the American system is the best in the world. Of course the United States had the advantage of studying the provisions and the practical working of the British budget system when our own was framed. The British system has been the growth of many years of experience and has been improved from time to time, but still has some defects, which even its supporters recognize.

That the American system is highly effective has been demonstrated by results. Not only have our finances been balanced by making expenditures come within the income but the executive departments have been so accurate in their estimates and the cooperation between the executive branch and the legislative branch has been so harmonious that the appropriations come within less than two per cent of the estimates of the Budget Bureau. This is a remarkably close approach to the estimates when it is remembered that the total was more than three billion dollars and there is no limitation whatever upon the right of Congress to make any changes it may deem best. The appropriations were slightly under the estimates submitted by the Director of the Budget.

There are two important respects in which the American system is superior to that of the British. One of these is the power which the President has, by virtue of his constitutional authority and authority given him by act of Congress, over the coordination of the work of the several departments of the government. One official of the Budget Bureau is known as the Chief Co-ordinator. Under the leadership of this officer representatives of the forty-three bureaus and boards and commissions conducting government business meet for conferences regarding government business in which they have a common interest. At such conferences plans are made for elimination of duplication, removal of competitive bidding for supplies, interchange of unused supplies, etc., with the result of saving millions of dollars and at the same time increasing efficiency.

Another important feature of superior merit in the American system is its flexibility. Under the British system when the tentative draft of the budget is made up it goes to the Cabinet for final approval and is then laid before the House of Commons. The budget is subject to discussion by the minority but if any material change is made without the consent of the administration that change results in a resignation of the Cabinet and the forming of a new cabinet by the

W. J. Wegel Checking up on Eradication Campaign Here

W. J. Wegel, barberry scout of the United States department of agriculture, arrived here today to spend two or three days in Rush county checking up on the black stem rust in the county and on the results of the barberry eradication campaign here last year.

Several instances were found in this county last year where barberry bushes had caused black stem rust in wheat and had materially cut the yield. The bushes were cut down wherever found and the government agent this year is investigating all of these cases to determine if the eradication of the barberry resulted in the elimination of black stem rust.

COMPLETE THREE SPAN REINFORCED BRIDGE

Highway Commission to Start in Few Days of Laying Pavement Across Structure in Putnam County

CHANGES NATIONAL ROAD

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—The state highway commission has just completed building a three span, 75-foot to the span, reinforced concrete arch bridge over Deer Creek in Putnam county on the National road, and work will start in a few days in laying pavement across the structure. Present indications are that traffic may use the bridge and cut-off by August 15, John D. Williams, director of the commission, says.

Opening of the Reesville bridge and cut off means changing the National road back to where it was in 1875. In that year Deer Creek flooded its banks and washed out a bridge on the site of the new one. Putnam county commissioners changed the road over to pass through the town of Reesville and across the old wooden structure at the base of a steep hill. When the highway commission started improving the National road the route was relocated back to the original right of way. The cut-off and new bridge eliminates two Pennsylvania railroad crossings and the dangerous Reesville Hill, also shortens the route three-quarters of a mile.

The old Reesville route which will be abandoned about the middle of August was considered an extremely hazardous one due to the fact one negotiated a particularly steep hill and then turned sharply to enter the bridge. It has been the scene of many a serious accident.

U. S. GOVERNMENT ON A VACATION

With President in Alaska. And Congress "Gone Home", Only A Few Of The Main Ones Are Left

MANY FOLLOW THE PRESIDENT

Hughes And New Are Holding Down Their Jobs In Unofficial Washington, Running The Affairs

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, July 23.—Official Washington is a desert.

The hot July sun beats down on the pavements. The asphalt "squashes" under the feet of unfortunate pedestrians out in the heat of mid-day. An occasional clerk or under-secretary saunters from one department to another.

The United States government is on a vacation.

President Harding is in Alaska, where many a pair of wistful eyes turn in following his movements. Some of the heads of his administration are in Alaska; some others of the members of his cabinet are somewhere else, and about everyone else, belonging to Washington who could manage it, is about everywhere but Washington.

And Congress is out of town too. But, then Congress had been almost constantly in session over such a long period, that Washington does not miss the members so much and is sort of glad that they have taken an opportunity to get away—for their sake, of course. The Superior Court is silent.

Standing as bulwarks of "duty before all" are two lone Cabinet members who announce that they will "stick it out on this line if it takes all summer." They are Secretary of State Hughes and Postmaster General New, who will remain at their desks without taking any leave that could be dignified by the name of a vacation.

So, all in all, this great nerve-center of the administration of the United States is more deserted this summer than at any time since the Taft Administration, when the then President criss-crossed throughout the country on his famous "swing around the circle" that equals or even exceeds the distance to be covered by President Harding.

The line-up of President Harding's "absentee Cabinet" is as follows:

Secretary of State Hughes, who remains here all summer, finding relief from well known Washington heat only through his residence at the summer home he maintains just on the outskirts of the city.

Postmaster General New, who also intends to stick to Washington all summer, with the possible exception of a few trips of a day or so on official business, such as for the purpose of attending a postal convention.

Secretary of War Weeks, who will spend as much time, if not more on periodic trips to his home in the mountains of New Hampshire, than in Washington.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, who is spending a month or so of vacation at his summer home on one of the lakes of Michigan.

Attorney General Daugherty, who is leaving shortly for the Pacific Coast to join President Harding upon the latter's return from Alaska, for the purpose of taking up a number of important questions with the executive during the return to Washington.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is now on a trip in Europe.

Secretary of Labor Davis, touring Europe.

Secretary of the Interior Work, who is accompanying President Harding on the Alaskan trip.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who joined the President on the Coast and accompanied him to Alaska.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, also with the Presidential party.

"What are Secretary Hughes and Postmaster General New planning to do here all by themselves this summer?" one asks. It may be that Hughes expects to see the business of his department pick up during this period. His last two summers have been quite eventful, he having brought to a conclusion the negotiations which developed the Disarmament Conference, the summer of 1921, with the Taena-Arica Conference between Chile and Peru having met here the summer of 1922 under his auspices.

President Harding said just before he left Washington that he did not fear a repetition of the Lansing incident in his administration, and that there would be no public scenes

TO MAKE A DRAINAGE SURVEY OF THE STATE

Three Engineers Hope To Collect Data From At Least Half Of Counties By September

TO REVISE DRAINAGE LAWS

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—Three engineers of the state conservation department have resumed work on preparation of a drainage survey of the state and expect to collect data from at least half the counties by September, Richard Lieber, conservation director, says. Mr. Lieber pointed out that this work was started a year or more ago but suspended after a few months progress, due to the press of work in getting the state parks in shape to handle the many thousands who each summer enjoy their cool retreats and great scenic beauty.

M. J. Stinchfield, assistant state engineer, under whose supervision the drainage survey will be made, says that data will be collected in each ninety-two counties as regards drainage ditches, low lands, flood stages, rapidity of run-off, etc. This data will be compiled into a report that will look toward the revision of the drainage laws of the state; also will place the conservation department in possession of facts to better render engineering service in advising the public on drainage problems.

Mr. Stinchfield calls attention that proper drainage has turned many acres of marsh lands to profitable agriculture. In the other hand unwise drainage schemes have placed some parts of the state at the mercy of floods. It is to correct many evils attendant to improper drainage in order that the department may be of augmented service, that the survey is being compiled, he says.

Insurance Growing Cheaper

Not long ago the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that electricity was the only large item in the cost of living which had shown any reduction in cost to the consumer since 1917.

Whether or not this indicates a recognition of the truth that the expense for fire insurance protection represents only a small percentage of the individual overhead is not made clear, or whether it was merely an oversight of the Bureau in overlooking this bulwark of modern society. It is a matter of record, however, that between 1912 and 1922, the average rate charged in the United States for fire insurance coverage declined to the extent of 7 cents for each $100 of insurance carried.

The astonishing feature of this situation is the fact that the reduction took place in the face of heavy advances for railroad fares, rents, supplies, wages, advertising and other necessary expenses.

A Telephone Nation

In 1877 the number of telephones per hundred population in both the United States and Europe was none. In 1899 the United States had less than one telephone per hundred population and Europe had barely a fraction of a telephone. In 1921 Europe had a little better than one telephone per hundred population while the United States had risen to more than thirteen telephones per hundred population and now has a total of 14,500,000 in use, which is two-thirds of all the telephones in the whole world.

In this country there is about one telephone to every two farm dwellings, a convenience unheard of in other countries. This wonderful telephone development is due to efficient organization, to the cumulative effect and importance of investments great and small in all the apparatus and equipment required for the transmission of speech, as well as to the foresight and business acumen of those who have directed the policy of the great systems from the beginning and to the fact that in this country telephone development has been left to private enterprise under reasonable governmental regulation.

Sports For Girls

We as a people are not slow in providing healthy sports for our young boys, because we know that they aid in making them manly men. But we need to be prodded up to the point of doing as much for the girls.

One reason why Americans are a hardy and progressive race is the fact that our women have more freedom than they have in other countries, and therefore secure more benefit from the open air and the natural exercise incident thereto.

When we arrive at the point where we provide the girls with opportunities for mental and physical development equal to those enjoyed by the boys we will have an even harder and more progressive race than we have ever had before.

We owe more to motherhood than most people realize.

zel has been receiving from home since living in London.

His letter to the Republican follows:

35 Upper Gloucester Pl.,
N. W. I.
London.

Dear Daily Republican:

"It's a small world"—three copies of your recent issues furnished me by young Schmalzel here in London made me a very pleasant hour the other morning. I had gone out early to mail some letter, and returning along Marleybone Road from Baker St., I heard someone repeating my name over to himself several times. I turned just as a young fellow was stepping out to meet me from the other side of the road. We met and shook hands about the middle of it—something about my walk had convinced him that he knew me, so he spoke out!
He was a Freshman in High School just as I was getting out, and I don't think I had seen him since.
Living in my neighborhood, he came over to see me soon after that and brought along three copies of your very good paper. The column "fifteen years ago today" was of course very grateful reading to me, but I believe I read every word of every article and notice and advertisement in the paper, whether I knew the parties concerned or not! My best regards to the old home-town and to the paper that represents it so well. Still pursuing my music—this time piano with Tobias Mathay, a great English teacher and writer.
Incidentally am enjoying the change in people, customs, and scenery—went down to Brighton yesterday where my mother and father lived 33 years ago. A few American dentists would do wonders over here—even young and healthy-looking people usually have several large and important teeth conspicuously by their absence and the rest sadly delapidated. They don't seem to attempt to fill them or save them —pull them out when no longer useful. The people, and their ways of living are behind the times, but their country is beautiful and chuck full of history.

Sincerely,
RICHARD H. McCLANAHAN

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican

From The Daily Republican

Following is an interview from Fon Riggs: "That was a corkin' good band here last week with the Guy Stock Company. And maybe you don't think I know something about a band. I played for over eight years in a band and played every instrument in the treble. Every time I see or hear a brass band, you can expect to find me right along with the small boys with my ears cocked. I'll bet I've spent enough money travelling around the country with the old aggregation we had here to buy twenty acres of the best land in Rush county. I remember once we went to a place about ten miles north of Cincinnati to play, and one of the boys from home always swore afterwards that he could hear every note that I played. I've got my old cornet up home yet. Folks started me to playing for my wind—no, not that I talked too much, but they thought I had the consumption. They gave me up to die once, and the band business saved my life, I guess."

After traveling over thirteen hundred miles without having gone to bed during the entire trip, Sheriff Will King returned yesterday afternoon with Joe Zeasing, alias Walter Ray, who escaped from the Rushville jail on Monday morning July 6, and was apprehended by the authorities of Muscatine, Iowa, last week. Ray Lakin accompanied the sheriff to Iowa.

Percy Walker, accompanied by his wife, will probably leave next week for Jersey Isle to make his annual purchase of fine cattle.

The management of the St. Paul team has found Eddie Carter is a little "shy" for the A. A. and needs more experience in the "hushes." Carter has been "farmed" out to the Madison, Wis., State League team for the rest of the season.

William Knecht of Center town-ship was slightly injured in a threshing machine accident yesterday afternoon. A belt flew off and struck him. He was slightly bruised about the body and burned on the arms by the moving belt.

Miss George Wyatt left this morning for a few days' visit at Bethany park.

J. A. Titworth attended the Elwood Chautauqua yesterday, where James E. Watson spoke.

Mrs. Sarah Giffin and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dill and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kemp attended a theatre party in Indianapolis last night.

Mrs. H. B. Ward and her guests, Mrs. N. G. Meredith and Leslie McVey and family and Misses Mary and Luedith Ward, Mrs. Orill Montayne Mrs. E. E. Hungerford and son Iden, Mrs. Oliver Wagoner and children, Dora, and Harold, C. H. Ward, wife and daughter, Miss Blanche and son Iden picked up Owen's mill Tuesday.

J. T. McBride has purchased the Williams meat market at the corner of Second and Morgan street. Andy Yunker has accepted a position with him and will go to work Monday on his return from a visit at Ft. Wayne.

Miss Hazel Moore of East Sixth street was hostess for a number of friends Wednesday evening.

ACHE

If you're a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Joseph Doll, 521 W. Third St., Rushville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on when I was troubled with kidney complaint and have found them a reliable remedy. At times my back was weak and lame and I had to remain in bed. It ached intensely through the small part and my kidneys were irregular in action. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to relieve me."

Mrs. Doll gave the above statement August 26, 1915, and on November 1, 1920, she added: "I still have the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally as a kidney tonic always with satisfactory results."

Is Worth More Than A
Fortune, Says Timmons

Among the thousands who have volunteered statements inviting personal inquiry into their experiences with Tanlac is S. W. Timmons, manager of the Timmons Insurance Agency, Fort Wayne, Ind., residing at 126 West Wayne St.

Mr. Timmons' position in the commercial and social life of Fort Wayne bespeaks his unquestioned integrity which stands with the strength of Gibraltar behind his statement. He says:

"I consider what Tanlac has done for my wife and myself is worth more than a fortune. If ever two people had their share of misery from stomach trouble, I think we had ours.

"As for myself, I had no appetite, was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and even when not actually in pain, I felt so tired and worn-out life was a burden. If anything, my wife suffered worse than I did.

"But without going into detail, we are both in splendid health since taking Tanlac, and I don't see how anyone could experience the wonderful relief we have and keep silent about it. If anyone doubts this statement just send them to me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

Exposure of movie colony night life was complete in some instances. The downtown Los Angeles district was the scene of great excitement. The negro janitor in the United Press offices felt the walls shaking, heard a tremendous rumbling and thought that handits had blown the safe. He rushed out with drawn revolver, shouting to the "yeggs" to surrender.

No fires were caused here, but the entire Los Angeles fire department was on the alert for the first alarm.

BELIEVES M'ADOO HAS BEST CHANCE

Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York Comments on Democratic Presidential Race

STOPS OFF IN INDIANAPOLIS

Declares Henry Ford Will be Elected if Nominated by Either of the Old Parties

Indianapolis, July 23—William Gibbs McAdoo is the leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency and he will go into the next convention with at least 50 percent of the votes, in the opinion of Royal S. Copeland, United States Senator from New York.

Senator Copeland stopped off in Indianapolis a short time on his way to Michigan for a vacation.

The senator, who himself has been mentioned for the presidency and who is looked upon as one of the coming party leaders, declared that Henry Ford could be elected if nominated by either of the old parties.

If he seeks the election as a third candidate he will draw the radical vote and strength the Democratic chances, Copeland believes.

The biggest issue of the campaign will be a combination of foreign relations and the plight of the farmers—the restoration of an European demand for American products being necessary to prosperity in this country, Copeland said.

Copeland sees little chance for the nomination either of Governor Smith of New York or Senator Ralston of Indiana.

"The whole country is dry," Copeland said, "but Governor Smith could no more consistently have vetoed the prohibition repealer than William Jennings Bryan could have signed it."

Senator Copeland was a visitor

at the meeting of the Pennsylvania Railroad Veterans' Association before leaving for his vacation in Michigan.

CROWD STORMS COURT HOUSE AS TRIAL OPENS

Mounted Police Drive Back Mob Estimated at 23,000 When Policeman's Murderer is Arraigned

DEATH PENALTY TO BE ASKED

(By United Press)

Cleveland, Ohio, July 23—A crowd estimated at 23,000 rushed the court house as the trial of John L. Whitefield started here today.

Patrolmen and mounted police drove back the mob that stormed the doors. Whitefield, the prisoner, was handcuffed to two deputy sheriffs and surrounded by other deputies.

Whitefield is charged with the murder of a Cleveland policeman. Accidental shooting will be the plea of Whitefield, who was the object of the most baffling man-hunts by authorities of many states of the mid-west and northwest.

"The Prosecution will demand the death penalty," declared Prosecutor Stanton as the trial opened. Whitefield goes to trial under a new Ohio law which makes a killing of a policeman on duty, first degree murder without any alternative.

Whitefield is charged with the slaying of Patrolman Dennis Griffin who arrested him on May 11 for theft of spark plugs. Griffin allowed the prisoner to go into his home to say goodbye to his wife where it was learned later he obtained a pistol. Then the two started in Whitefield's automobile for the police station, but they never arrived at that destination. Three days later the policeman's body was found with a bullet hole through his head, buried at the base of an uprooted tree.

ALASKAN VISIT AT AN END

Pres. Harding Turns Attention To World Affairs

(By United Press)
Aboard the U. S. S. Henderson with President Harding enroute to Vancouver, July 23.—President Harding turned his attention to world affairs today as his Alaskan visit came to an end with the Henderson headed southward for his scheduled speeches at Vancouver and San Francisco.

President Harding is planning to discuss international problems again with particular reference to the world court and the French acceptance of the Washington navy treaty. When he arrives at Vancouver Thursday, the president will be met by the governor general, Lord Bing, Lady Bing and the high officials of the Canadian government.

MANY LUNATICS STILL AT LARGE

Conformity with state laws were guarding them.

At a moment when vigilance was relaxed the mad men swarmed over the guards, one of them wielding a butcher knife. A score or more seized a bench and using it as a battering ram, tore a gaping hole in the steel wire fence.

Thirty one mad men dashed through the aperture and made for a clump of woods nearby. Other prison guards, answering the general alarm immediately began the pursuit.

Inhabitants of Chester, a town of about 4,000 spent a night of terror. Men guarded their homes throughout the night with loaded shotgun. A posse under Sheriff C. E. FARM LABOR CRISIS OVER

Demand For Help in Harvest Field is on the Decrease

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23—The crisis in the Indiana farm labor situation is over, Prof. W. Q. Fitch, head of the state farm labor office in the statehouse, said today.

Demand for laborers has been on the decrease in all parts of the state the last ten days with the exception of the extreme north portion, where the wheat harvest is being finished this week, he said.

Only about one-fourth of the men who went to the employment office in search of work actually landed jobs, according to Fitch. Some didn't have the money to get to farms after they had been offered work, while others were disinclined to labor in the wheat fields at the price the farmers were able to pay, according to Fitch.

The employment office will be closed after this week.

Making New Markets With Printer's Ink

One of the most striking changes of the past ten years is that which has come about in the important business of housekeeping. In this short time the broom and the washboard have vanished from the housewife's coat of arms, and the comic pictures in which Mary hurls the flatiron at John don't ring true, as they once did.

Brooms, washboards and flat-iron have given way to suction sweeper, electric washing machine and electric iron. And Mary doesn't hurl the iron at John any longer, not simply because it's fastened to a cord, but because she's taking no chances with it.

What has brought about this new and agreeable state of affairs? Well, how did Mary happen to buy that new iron which has proved such a boon to herself—and John? She saw it advertised, of course. And the multiplied Marys of today represent a great market created largely through national advertising.

No wonder the alert retailer and the wholesaler have come to hold national advertising in high esteem—for besides making easier for them the sale of goods with long-established markets, quickened their turnover, protecting them against inferior merchandise and benefiting them in many other ways, national advertising is constantly creating markets for new merchandise and opening up new channels of trade.

It is because America reads advertising that the new idea today so swiftly supplants the old. Advertising changes deep-rooted habits. Advertising creates new desires. Advertising sets new and better standards. And all this it does with amazing swiftness—for advertising speaks to millions simultaneously.

The safety razor, the player piano, massage cream, the glass baking dish, wallboard, fireproof roofing, the talking machine, soap flakes, canned soup—one could go on indefinitely extending the list of products which today testify to the ability of national advertising to create new merchandise demands.

There is probably no industry today for which advertising has not blazed new trails. There is no merchant, wholesale or retail, the scope of whose business it has not greatly widened.

But the main thing which advertising does for the retailer is to speed up his turnover; that's what makes him a profit.
